adapted from the novel of Mrs. Harriet Beocher Stowe.

At the present mement a drama like Unels Tom's Cabin cannot fall to possess a deep interest for the New York public, offering, as it does, a vivid picture of life in that portion of the Union now arrayed in arms against the government of the Union now arrayed in arms against the government of the Union and all the noblest interests of mankind. It is a toroughly American play, and must find its truest interpretation in an American theatre.

This beautiful story, which appeals to the highest and purest feelings of the human heart, is presented in the most perfect form possible, the scenery being new, the appointment correct, and the cast selected with every care to render it the best possible the talent of the country can afford.
